Experiences & anecdotes

05/11/2022 - On my first trip to New York in 2014, we stayed with a friend's family on Long Island. They fed birds and I remember all of the Goldfinches they had at their feeders. While spending some time in their backyard, I noticed a Black-and-White Warbler up in one of the trees. I had my camera on hand and was able to capture an excellent photo of it.
